SUPPORTING AND PROMOTING FOLK MUSIC, DANCE & STORYTELLING IN THE FOX VALLEY SINCE 1975

ADVERTISING IN THE 2010 FOX VALLEY FOLK FESTIVAL PROGRAM BOOK

The 34th Annual Fox Valley Folk Music & Storytelling Festival will be held on September 5 & 6, 2010, at Island Park in Geneva, IL, and we are starting to assemble our festival program book. The 68 page book profiles the performers, gives festival schedules and information, provides a comprehensive Folk Music, Dance & Storytelling Resource List, and has advertisements from businesses & organizations. It is distributed free at the Festival, and most of our audience takes the programs home to use the folk resource list & ads as a folk phone book & radio show list. (We actually get calls each year requesting replacements for lost or worn out festival books!) Last year about 3000 Festival books were distributed, and we plan to print the same number this year.

Over 90% of our advertisers are repeat customers, and over 25% add a tax-deductible donation of $25 to $300 over base ad rates to further support Festival production. Last year, 80+ advertisers from nearly a dozen states included large and small businesses, organizations, print & radio media, and events. Our ads offer an inexpensive way to reach a highly mobile, up-scale audience that regularly travels for entertainment, food, or specialty stores. Your ad also supports one of the most highly respected and best attended folk festivals in Illinois. Last year over 8500 people from over a dozen States attended. If you could provide additional support to the Festival, we offer special recognition for tax-deductible donations of $25, $100, $300 and more. (See details on the rate sheet.)

The Fox Valley Folk Festival presents over 35 of the finest folk music and storytelling acts from all over the Midwest and across the country. Eight stages run continuously, with choices of mini-concerts, storytelling, topical music workshops or educationals on a variety of folklife subjects. We also feature a folk arts area where artisans demonstrate and sell their work, and a children's stage with projects & entertainment. The Fox Valley Folk Festival is Illinois' largest Folk Festival, and is sponsored by The Fox Valley Folklore Society and Geneva Park District.

All revenue from the book is used to help cover production costs, and your ad dollars help pay for printing, mailing, staging, publicity, tent rental, and much more. To include your ad in the Festival book please call with space reservations as soon as possible. Please try to reserve by August 14, but we need electronic copy (preferred) or camera-ready copy in hand by August 21. A list of our rates and ad sizes is attached. If you have size or layout problems, please contact us and we will try to help. We think you will find our rates very reasonable.

Please note: The final page size of the Festival Book is 5 1/2" X 8 1/2" (73% of your original layout size), so avoid using very small type sizes & graphics (Deadline for copy is August 21 – Please Call to arrange later delivery)

Call us at (630) 897-3655 to reserve ad space or discuss any special requirements. Please make checks payable to "FOX VALLEY FOLKLORE SOCIETY".

Thanks for your support of Grass-Roots Community Arts Organizations and folk & acoustic music,

Juel Ulven
Festival Director
